Another Arab War Senate and Sugar Would End Strikes Mystery of Finance

A NOTHER war has broken out, following wholesale murders in Palestine, Jews and Arabs are boycotting each other in business. The Anglo-Palestine bank refuses bills of credit to Arabs. The latter boycott the Palestine Electric company and the Jewish bank.

British airplanes start real work with Arabs killed and wounded, their friends convinced that Mohammed is not as powerful as was supposed.

Christians are as much interested as Jews in the outbreak. Once a religious war starts, the Mohammedan fanatic enjoys equally the murder of a Christian or a Jew. If anything, the Arabs might favor the Jews, to whom they are racially related. From the Jewish religion Mohammed borrowed much for his Koran.

It has been said that the Koran was written by an educated Jew for Mohammed, who probably could not write, although he certainly could fight.

The senate is discussing tariff. One hundred and twenty million Americans who eat sugar, beet sugar men, Louisiana sugar men, sugar growers of the whole world, are interested in sugar.

A high sugar tariff really means protection, a national subsidy of many millions, for employers of Asiatic labor in Hawaii and the Philippines. Sugar comes duty free from those places, belonging to Uncle Sam; Asiatics do the work. Their employers get the profit. Not much of it will go to sugar growers on this continent. Our friend Cuba, good customer and neighbor, would be ruined by a high tariff, if anything could ruin so plucky a people.

British Labor government seeks a way to "end strikes and lockouts." In a recent cotton strike workers lost $5,000,000 a week in wages. Mills lost $7,000,000 a week in export trade, and must fight to get it back.

Arbitration is the only way. If the Labor government can find arbitrators that both sides will trust persuade employers to play fair and union men to keep bargains when they find they don't like them. It will render inestimable service to Great Britain and teach this country something it needs to learn.

From the material point of view, Russia will gain by her "continuous industrial year."

There will be no stoppage of machinery, on Sunday or other days, during 360 days each year. Five other days, six in leap years, will be devoted to patriotic, bolshevik holidays.

Each man will have his rest time, longer than under our six-day and Sunday plan, but machinery will never stop except for repairs.

To make machines work all the time and give men reasonable leisure would be the ideal program. But, of course, Sunday should not be neglected—especially on a basis openly hostile to religion.

The International Congress of Psychology learns that married life brings the male mind closer to the feminine mind.

Investigation of "sex differences primarily non-intellectual," said Doctor Erman, shows that married life weakens "mental masculinity."

Naturally and fortunately, men were once all cannibals, all murderers, all thieves. To meet a stranger was to kill him or run so that he would not kill you. Women had to change that gradually, in their husbands and in their little boys also. They have done it, partly. Much work remains for the feminine mind.

Finance is a mystery, understood least by the man who thinks he understands it.

Britain lent millions to France, and France now is drawing gold from London, worrying the Bank of England.

The French lend money on call at 2½ per cent, while complaining of poverty caused by the war. This richest country in the world lends call money at from 8 to 20 per cent. A French business man can borrow money on time loans for 8½ per cent. American business men pay 6 to 8 per cent.

Today the stock gamblers and investors probably will start again cheerfully. August was a great month. Two hundred and forty representative stocks increased in value by four thousand, four hundred and sixty-five million dollars.

Colonel Lindbergh says a flyer must have some imagination to get him out of trouble—not too much imagination, which might distract him from his flying. And the first-class flyer must not know what fear is.

Lieutenant Doolittle possesses the necessary requirements. While showing what an airplane could do, above the Cleveland airport, he stripped the wings from his plane and jumped at 2,000 feet with his parachute. He immediately asked for a new plane and went up to compete in "upside-down" flying.

MARY J. WOOD CASE TO BE RETRIED HERE

A motion for retrial of the Mary J. Wood case was filed with the county clerk Tuesday. If granted it is expected to be heard again in the October term of court. This case involves the will of Mrs. Wood, deceased in which there is an estate amounting to about $400,000. Two wills were filed in probate court, one of which left the estate to Albert B. Lincoln and Mrs. Huston, brother and sister of the deceased; the other named Wm. F. Austin and others business partners of the deceased's husband, also deceased.

The case was tried in the July term of circuit court before Judge Guy Smith and a jury. It required about two weeks to present the testimony and for the lawyers to make their pleas before the jury. The jury sustained the opinion of the probate court by deciding in favor of the Lincoln-Huston interests.

The case was bitterly fought by a large array of able attorneys from Detroit. The appellants were represented by the law firm of Stevenson, Butzel, Eaman & Long, and Monahan & Crowley of Detroit, and the Lincoln-Huston interests by Lodge & Brown of Detroit. The Supreme court has ordered the case to be retried.

The trial involves a tremendous expense for the services of high priced attorneys and for witnesses who have to come here from long distances and remain here thruout the trial, many of whom come here from California, New York, and other distant states. Crawford county too shares in the expense in having to provide the costs of the court. The first trial cost the taxpayers of Crawford county over $1200. There appears to be no legal procedure for passing that expense onto the litigants. The latter may reimburse the county if they feel so inclined and it is hoped they will, when the case is finally settled.

CLIFF DURANT BUILDING FINE HOME

The fine new summer home of Cliff Durant that is under construction on the South Branch river is well under way. The lower part of the walls are finished and it is expected the building will be enclosed in time so that interior work may proceed during the cold weather season.

The structure is being built of cut stone and brick and will be about 150 x 50 feet in size. The cost is claimed to be in the neighborhood of $200,000 when finished. There is a crew of about 70 men on the job and work is progressing rapidly.

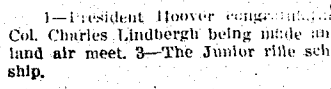

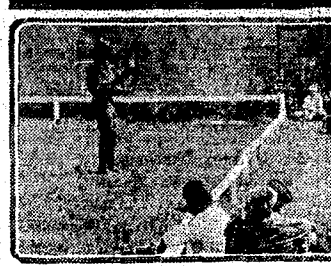

Mr. Durant owns about 15 miles of river frontage and about 2,000 acres of land. Some time ago he purchased the Charles Downey estate interests which is located on one of the most beautiful spots along that wonderful stream. The Downey club is known all over the state for its exquisite beauty and layout on the river. Here the landscape artist has added the touches that add charm and pleasure to the place. Under the ownership of Mr. Durant it is bound to become still more complete and beautiful. Adding to the convenience of the place is a well arranged airplane landing field with appropriate hangars.

Now Is the Time to Re-roof

Winter weather will be with us almost before you know it, so why delay having your roofs repaired. One leak may cause more damage than the total bill for repairs.

DIGEST OF NEW GAME LAWS

Lansing, Sept. 11—A 30 days hunting season for raccoons in the lower peninsula of Michigan beginning November 1, and 15 and 30 day open raccoon seasons for trappers in two areas of the southern peninsula were announced today by the department of conservation in a season schedule that will be issued with every small game license.

Thirty day muskrat seasons are provided for the lower peninsula, divided as to time, east and west of Saginaw Bay and north and south of Townline 16. West of Saginaw Bay and north of Townline 16, the open season will be from November 15 to December 15. East of that line and south of Townline 16, it will be from December 1 to December 31. The upper peninsula season is November 1 to 30 inclusive.

The open partridge season for the first time in years is listed on an official game season schedule. The open season for partridge for the lower peninsula will be October 16 to 20 inclusive. The season will remain closed in the upper peninsula. A card containing official data concerning game seasons for 1929-30 will be distributed with each small game license instead of the game law digest pamphlets which will appear later.

The schedule follows:
Duck, Wilson snipe (Jack-snipe) Geese and Brant, Coots—September 16 to December 31, inclusive.

Pheasant (male), Fox Squirrel—12 noon, October 25 to October 31, inclusive.

Partridge, Prairie Chicken—Lower Peninsula, October 16 to October 20, inclusive.

Woodcock—October 15 to October 31, inclusive.

Florida Gallinules and Rails—October 1 to November 30, inclusive.

Deer and bear—November 15 to November 30, inclusive.

Cottontail rabbits, Varying hare (Snowshoe or Jack rabbit) October 1 to January 31 in upper peninsula. October 15 to January 1 in lower peninsula, inclusive.

Muskrats—Lower peninsula; north of Townline 16 and west of Saginaw Bay, November 15 to December 15. May be killed at any time—Coyote, wolf, lynx, wildcat, fox, weasel, skunk, mink, woodchuck, owls, crows, and starling.

Season is closed on the following: Moose, elk, caribou, mourning dove, wood-duck, black-bellied and golden plover, yellowlegs, swan, eider duck, and Hungarian partridge.

Appended to the season schedule is a note to hunters. The note says: "Know your game laws, both state and federal. Read them carefully. Know what you're doing before you do it. Ignorance is no excuse in the eyes of the law. No sportsman will willfully break a game law. There is no excuse for him to do so unknowingly."

No changes have been made in the costs or obligations of various small game licenses, excepting that only citizens of the United States are eligible.

Small game licenses remain at $1.25; deer, $2.50, and muskrat trapping $1.00 for 20 traps for residents; and small game licenses $10 and deer $50 for non-residents. Resident citizens and their children and employees are exempt from purchase of small game licenses or muskrat trapping fees which hunting or trapping on their own enclosed lands upon which they are regularly domiciled.

The digest of game laws to be issued in about a month will contain a revised list of sections of the state in which special game laws will prevail.

Speaking of law violation, maybe we ought to send a lot of dentists to Congress and the legislature to put teeth in the statutes.

BEAVER CREEK FARMERS THRESHED

Homer Annis says that the farmers of Beaver Creek are all thru with their threshing for this year and that they had good yields of oats and rye. He and his crew of men hustled into the work and got thru with it in about five long days. They threshed for the following farmers:

George Annis.
Tony Nelson.
Albert Moon.
Wayne Morehouse.
Enus Anderson.
Hjalmar Mortenson.
John Canfield.
A. B. Failing.
Ted Leslie.

There is one thing, Homer says, the men never neglected and that was meal time. And such appetites! Now, he says, he understands why people remark when an extra hungry man sits down to a good dinner, that "he eats like a thresher." And we surmise that the housewives weren't slow about giving them all they wanted of good food.

BIG INCREASE IN H. S. ENROLLMENT

Principal LaVere Cushman reports the largest enrollment in Grayling High school of its entire history. The number increased from about 190 last year to 221 for this year. Practically every seat in the assembly room is occupied. Also a fine large class of seniors is reported with an enrollment of 33. The total enrollment for the entire school is 552 that, we believe, is the largest it has ever been.

A number of new ovations are predicted for the year, among which are greater musical inspiration. There will be special vocal organizations in boys and girls glee clubs, carol clubs and quartettes and instrumental organizations. Dramatics too seem to be finding a ready response, all of which is very desirable extra training for our young people in addition to their regular courses of study.

These things add talent and culture for our boys and girls, which is wholesome, pleasant and inspirational. Of course we shall have a debating team and good basketball teams for both boys and girls. Already things are beginning to become active along these lines. Classes are being organized and things are starting out well in all departments. Good reports of the school conditions and affairs are coming in every day. Everyone is working hard and all are happy, and it looks like another big year for Grayling school.

WARDEN'S RESUME OF FOREST FIRES

The Crawford Avalanche, Grayling, Mich. Sept. 10, 1929. Dear Editor:

Several stories have been circulated as to the recent fires in Crawford county and knowing that the Avalanche would like the facts as to just what the situation was, I am sending you the following:

On Saturday morning, Aug. 31st, a fire started in heavy Jack pine slash just south of the Game Refuge, with Otto Failing in charge. This fire had an abundance of fuel and due to dry weather was a continual source of trouble, even after it was under control, and it was necessary to have men patrolling until Sept. 5th—Thanks to the cooperation of the Higgins Lake forestry crews.

On the same date a very serious situation arose near Lovells when a fisherman's tent caught on fire and burned over some 200 acres. This fire was controlled by a crew in charge of Clarence Stillwagon, but, like all fires of this nature, needed the attention of several men to insure that it would stay within bounds.

Chas. Craven of Frederic and district warden Tom Marlett of Waters had the difficult task of conquering a fire that was started by careless berry pickers. This fire was between Waters and Deward and in very bad fire country.

Fire from careless campers in the old Reindeer ranch, west of the aviation field was controlled by Neal Mathews and crew.

With the above fires, each requiring the attention of a fire warden and crew, the warden reported a fire starting on Sec. 13, T27, N4W, between Grayling and Frederic and near U. S. 27. An emergency warden, with a crew soon had this fire under control but on account of high winds had to keep both night and day patrol.

The following morning section 8 northwest of the Hartwick Pines was the source of another careless berry-picker's campfire. With high winds and no wardens available it became necessary to summon help and Grayling responded generously. During this period three small fires were reported to Mrs. Chas. Craven of Frederic who managed to care for them without a fire warden and by the help of her neighbors.

The telephone exchanges of both Grayling and Frederic responded with the best of service or matters would have been much worse.

Very truly yours,
Mert W. McClure,
Ass't. District Warden.

Those Model T Fords seem to be as slow in dying out as a rich uncle.

MUCH INTEREST IN DAIRY SIRE TRAIN

The battle of bull run is an incident in American history familiar to everyone. When the Dairy Sires Train is operated thru Northeastern Michigan this month and next the cooperators hope to add another chapter to the history of Northeastern Michigan with the chapter "Running the Scrub Bull Out."

This Dairy Sires Train will be complete in all details. With approximately 10 pure bred bulls of the breeds—Holstein, Guernsey, and Jersey, this train will stop in all but two counties of Northeastern Michigan, where pure bred bulls will be sold at nominal prices and scrubs will be accepted for trade. Only animals of high production records will be carried and thru arrangements with state breeders the prices will be very reasonable.

The exhibits on the cars will also be interesting to all persons. Three cars will be fitted up with educational exhibits furnished by the Michigan State College, the State Department of Agriculture, and the United States Department of Agriculture, the National Dairy Council and other interested agencies. There will be something of interest for all visitors and the boys and girls are particularly invited to attend.

Ten cars will make up the Train and stops of three and one-half to five hours will be made, at each town. Plan now to visit the Train and make up your mind to take home a pure bred bull.

The Train will be in Grayling on September 26 from 1:30 p. m. to 5:00 p. m.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Although earnest efforts have been made in recent years to cut down America's fire loss, it is still said to exceed a half billion dollars a year, to say nothing of the sacrifice of the lives of thousands of human beings. The real tragedy in this picture is seen when we realize that most of this enormous loss of life and property was caused by carelessness.

October 5-12 has been set aside as "Fire Prevention Week." It is a week when we should see to the removal of every fire hazard, a time when we should study the simple rules of fire prevention, a week in which we should decide to reduce America's ash heap to a minimum. We can accomplish this if we have the will to that end.

A DANGEROUS MIXTURE

Boys will be boys, and only a prudent would say all character is ruined or chances for success destroyed by little offenses against the conventions of society. But there is one thing the present generation should try to learn: Booze and gasoline will not mix. In this day of congested traffic, automobile drivers need the use of every faculty, and the public is right in being incensed by the slightest haziness that may be created by "moonshine" or kindred beverages. Drinking, in itself, is neither particularly shocking nor important, but when human life is endangered because of it, then it becomes both dangerous and a vital concern of society.

FREE DINNERS TO COUNTY FARMERS

The Grayling Board of Trade is making arrangements to furnish the dinners free to any and all farmers who come here September 26th to visit the Better Sires special train. Those who intend to be present are requested to call on Secretary A. J. Joseph at the Grayling Mercantile Co. store, for tickets. These tickets will be acceptable at any eating place in the city, thus making it convenient for the guests to get their dinners wherever they may choose.

The train will arrive here from Rosecommon at 1:30 and remain until 5 p. m., and will carry about 100 pure bred bulls for sale or exchange for scrub bulls. Any farmer wanting to exchange a scrub bull for a pure bred animal is requested to bring in the animal at the time the train is here. The regular beef market price will be allowed for the scrub and the amount applied on the payment for a pure bred animal. It is hoped that at this time every scrub bull now in the county will be done away with and better ones added to the farms. Bulls will be on sale for cash to anyone wishing one regardless whether they have a scrub to turn in or not. The lowest possible prices for pure bred animals will be charged. Farmers living nearer to Frederic will be accommodated by the managers of the train by having the train stop at that station to take off animals. However none will be taken on at that station.

We hope we will have a good turnout of our farmer friends at the time of the train. And be here in time to have dinner with us. Get tickets of Mr. Joseph, please.

FOREST FIRE AP- PARATUS ALL OUT

Lansing, Sept. 11—Every available piece of the forest fire fighting equipment of the Department of Conservation was rushed into action last week when tinder-dry forests in both peninsulas burst into flames.

The fires, rapidly brought under check because of careful watching and fighting before the flames had gained any start in any section, at first gave promise of involving Michigan in its greatest loss in years. Weather conditions were considered the most hazardous for forest fires in six years.

Thousands of people were disappointed when they failed to see fire fighting equipment with the conservation exhibits at their local fairs. However, because of the seriousness of the fire situation, it was necessary to take the equipment from the State Fair at Detroit and rush it into the field.

The forest fire division is now feeling the beneficial effects of two statutes that took effect August 28. One of these increases pay for temporary fight fighters from 20c to 30c an hour. The other is an act creating authority to erect and maintain fire lines on any unimproved lands. The higher wage scale is obtaining more enthusiastic response from volunteer and drafted fire fighters. The authority to maintain fire lines on any unoccupied land is also creating a more efficient and rapid means of blocking the progress of the flames, it is said.

AMAZING FACTS

When one visualizes a railroad grade crossing accident, it is to see a gigantic, speeding locomotive crash into a small automobile, destroying the car and maiming the occupants. But this is not always the case.

Last year more than 25 per cent of all grade crossing accidents resulted from automobiles running into trains, either standing or in motion. The increase in such accidents was several times greater, when compared with 1927, than the increase in accidents caused by trains striking cars.

The public, in spite of intensive accident prevention efforts by the railroads and others, grows steadily more careless and indifferent to danger.

It is an economic truth that to eliminate all grade crossings would be a financial impossibility. The taxpayers and the railroads have spent tremendous sums reducing grade crossings, only to have more grade crossings demanded than ever before.

The railroads have spent millions installing safety devices to warn the public. Courts have now held that responsibility for seeing that a train is not coming at a railroad crossing, rests on the driver of the automobile. A little care on the part of motorists and all such accidents would be prevented, and thousands of lives saved each year.

MOST crime reformers are trying to kill an elephant with a pop-gun.

At the present time in this country crime is an organized "business" of the first importance with clear-sighted executives, high-priced lawyers, and almost endless resources in money and affiliations.

To attempt to fight the underworld by prohibiting law-abiding citizens from owning pistols and guns, is nothing short of absurd. It would be like fighting out of season fishing by prohibiting all fishing.

Basic reasons for crime, such as public apathy, graft, antiquated judicial procedure, the power wielded by sentimentalists, a burden of laws and red tape, are commonly overlooked by well-meaning reformers.

Without an aroused public consciousness against the menace of the criminal, nothing can be done. Once that consciousness is aroused, the day of the prosperous criminal will be over, and when crime is not prosperous it will not flourish.

The more laws, the less criminals punished, is a proven axiom. Clever lawyers, taking advantage of technicalities, can twist evidence out of all semblance to reality. Sob-sisters away juries and pardon and parole boards. As a result, more criminals go free in this country than in any other civilized nation.

To reduce crime we must strike at the root of the evil, i. e., conditions which encourage crime.

"John," said his wife over the telephone, "you must come home at once. I have mixed up the plugs of the vacuum cleaner and the wireless, and the loudspeaker is chucking all the paper off the wall."—Oswestry Advertiser.

Statistics show that the number of railroad robberies has dropped ninety-three per cent in the past ten years. Most of the yeggs evidently have gone into the automobile hold-up business.

ONE POSSIBLE DISASTER

The one terrible thing in this world, in the view of Ecclesiastes, is to be without a friend. To have nobody to love, nobody to be loved by, nobody to speak to when you are happy, nobody to speak to when you are sad, nobody to grow old with, nobody to meet life with, nobody to pray for, nobody at whose prayer God might bless us; to have nobody to believe in you in all weathers, nobody to be with you in some hard place and to be with you at the last; nobody to shed a tear for you when at length it is apparent that you are about to leave this world; nobody to follow your dust to the grave in sorrow that you have gone, in faith that such a one as you have been cannot have gone forever—to be thus alone, for this man and for every truly human heart is the one possible disaster.

Sioux Adopt Josephine Altman

Miss Josephine Altman of Evanston, Ill., was adopted by the Sioux tribe of Indians in the Black Hills. She was given the name of Singing Bird because she sang Indian songs so well. Miss Altman acquires her interest in Indian things honestly. For she is a descendant of Capt. John Smith, whose life was saved by Pocahontas.

He-I've made up my mind to know all about the races. She-Horses or men?

NOT AN ARTIST, BUT DREW

He draws wonderfully. He looks like an artist. But he's an actor, dear.

WHY HE WAS NOT KILLED

She-And you jumped from the balcony? Heavens, why were you not killed? He-The balloon hadn't left the ground.

A FLAPPER ON EACH SIDE

He's a lot of blubber-just a big whale. I've noticed, whenever I've seen him, he always has a flapper on each side.

NOT WORTH IT

She-Why can't Joe mend his ways? He-Because he's not worth a darn.

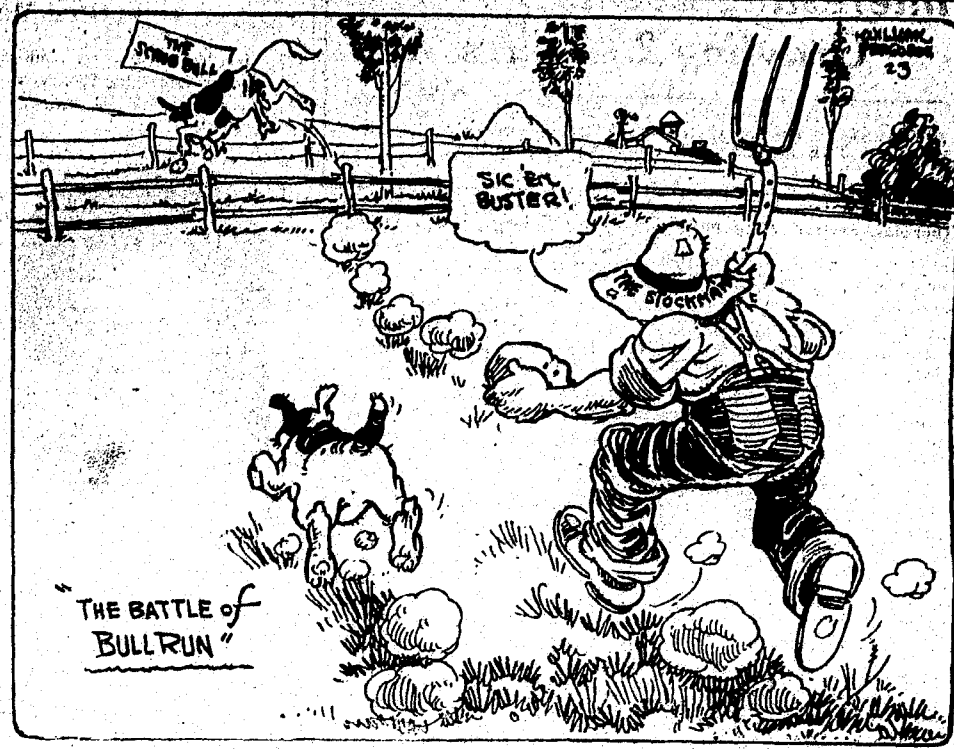

WHICH DID HE DO?

Father (anent erring son)-At last we decided to give him all the rope he wanted. Friend-What did he do-hang himself or quit smoking?

INDUSTRIAL AND FINANCIAL REVIEW

By William McMahon, Pres. William McMahon's Market Digest

There seems to be no let-down in production in the key industries. Steel operations are being maintained at a near capacity rate, and the Iron Age states in its current issue that the "tapering demand recently reported for the metal has not yet been reflected."

Over-production still vexes the oil business, although the principal units in the industry report big profits and look ahead to still greater prosperity. Motors are forging ahead, with companies for the most part turning out cars at a record rate. The increased buying power of our farmers together with the enormous export business and the general affluence of almost everyone are items to justify the optimism of motor partisans.

Most copper men think that the price for the red metal will hold at 18c a pound for at least the rest of the year. The railroads are reporting weekly gains in freight loadings and extensive equipment buying is reported.

There is a slight rise in the index of commodity prices, and retail trade is picking up in all sections of the country. Bank clearings were higher last week over the corresponding week last year, and employment is better. Building construction shows gains and industrial failures are on the decline.

Money continues firm although somewhat easier than during the first half of the month. The outlook is for continued firmness, largely due to the heavy total of grain and cotton bills now coming on the market and which will absorb much Federal Reserve funds. The situation will ease, probably, in a fortnight.

The Stock Market is strong. Many of the issues which we have been recommending have advanced; namely Steel, General Electric, Anaconda, Chrysler, Bethlehem Steel, Westinghouse, Pennsylvania most of the Standard Oils and American Can. Every indication points to a still stronger market.

HUDSON-ESSEX CARS HAVING HEAVY DEMAND

Shipments of Hudson and Essex cars up to September 1st of this year are announced as 267,341 as against 230,019 in the same period of 1928, a gain of 16.2%. This is the best eight month's record Hudson has ever known, leaving less than 15,000 Hudson and Essex cars to equal shipping record of 282,204 for the entire year of 1928.

To assure a steady seasonal reduction of car stocks in the hands of its distributing organization, Hudson is shipping at the rate of around 85% of present retail sales as reported weekly to the factory by distributors and dealers. On this basis August shipments were 17,309.

Donie Bush Quits Pirates

Donie Bush, who quit as manager of the Pittsburgh National league club, which he has piloted for three seasons, each time finishing in the money division. The resignation was immediately accepted, and Jewel Ens, veteran coach and former infielder, was appointed acting manager, taking charge of the team at once.

CANADIAN THANKS E. M. T. SERVICE

Sam D. Campbell, realtor, London, Ontario, in a letter to T. F. Marston, secretary of the East Michigan Tourist association, expresses his appreciation of the service rendered by the tourist association in making his visit to East Michigan pleasurable. "We enjoyed the trip very much and the improved roads along the highway were just wonderful. We found everyone along the route very kind and obliging. I regret we were unable to find time to call upon you," he writes. "Your road maps, books and suggestions for the trip in the direction of Mackinaw City were just what we required."

Can't Talk To Wife, Too Cross and Nervous

"Even my husband couldn't talk to me, I was so cross and nervous. Vinol has made me a different and happy woman." -Mrs. N. McCall.
Vinol is a compound of iron phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. Mac & Gidley, Druggists.

Okra Emigrates

FORMERLY people who lived in the North could get okra only in its dried form. Now the canning of okra, whole or sliced, has virtually supplanted the older form, and the Northerner as well as the Southerner can get this distinctive vegetable in cans.

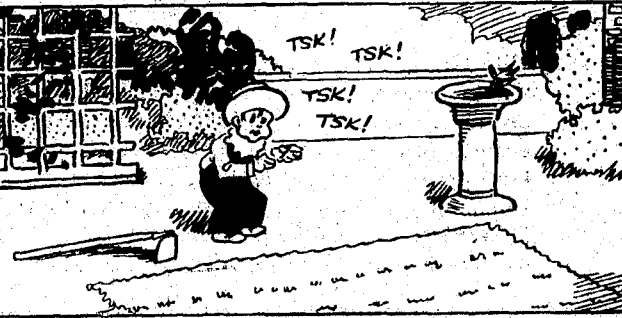

How to Cook Okra

The small pod of the okra is the part that is eaten, and its mild flavor is much liked by its devotees. Creole cooks whose flair for good cooking is too well known to need proclaiming are famous for their gumbo (or okra) soups. Okra is especially good in combinations with tomatoes. Or for a more substantial dish, okra can be combined with cheese to make:

Okra au Gratin: Cut the okra from a No. 2 can in thin slices.

Make a cheese sauce by melting three tablespoons butter, stirring in three tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper, and adding one and one-half cups milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until smooth and thick, still stirring constantly. Then add three-fourths cup grated cheese and stir until melted. Combine with the okra, and pour into individual buttered ramekins or custard cups. Cover with crumbs and brown in a hot oven. This recipe will serve six people.
Canned okra may be well seasoned with salt and pepper and served by itself as a dinner vegetable. Sometimes when you are feeling tired of all the ordinary vegetables, why not try this unusual vegetable? It will undoubtedly be a welcome addition to your food repertoire.

Konjola Only Medicine That Benefited Me

Ten Terrible Years Of Suffering
Speedily Ended By This New And Different Medicine

MRS. HURL AIKENS

"I had suffered ten long years with stomach trouble and weak kidneys," said Mrs. Hurl Aikens, 35 Pare street, Detroit. "Even the lightest foods caused distress, and whatever I ate laid like a sodden mass in my stomach. There it fermented and caused gas, bloating and heart palpitation. As my kidneys did not function properly my system filled with poisons."

"I heard so many fine endorsements of Konjola that I decided to give it a trial. Just four and a half bottles and my digestion was restored, and I can eat and enjoy a hearty meal. The kidney trouble is practically gone. To Konjola goes all the credit for my new health, and I recommend it to everyone who suffered as I did." Konjola is sold in Grayling, Mich., at the Mac & Gidley drug store, and by all the best druggists in the towns throughout this entire section.

HOOSIER GROUP HAS WONDERFUL VACATION

Roy C. Harris, Fort Wayne, Ind., August 29 wrote the East Michigan Tourist association expressing pleasure over the enjoyable vacation which he had in Michigan. In his letter he states that a group of four which accompanied him on a twelve day camping trip, during which they visited six different state parks, enjoyed the finest vacation they had ever had. "We thoroughly enjoyed the fine Michigan highways, even the sand trails through the forests," he writes. "We were very much surprised and delighted with the various conveniences of the state parks." Mr. Harris among other places visited Mackinaw City, Rogers City, East Tawas, Houghton Lake, Jackson and Clare.

Drugs and Cut Flowers

The effect of aspirin and forty three other chemicals when placed in water containing cut flowers was tried by two botanists in a series of tests, and they report that these substances do not aid in increasing the life of cut flowers.

1929 TOURIST SEASON ACCENTS PROPOSED LONGER RESORT PERIOD

(By E. M. T. Service)

Plans discussed in the past by the East Michigan Tourist association directors to lengthen the summer tourist and resort season have been accepted this season by the hot weather of Labor Day week and the exceptionally prosperous season just passed. It is proposed that the extension of the season into September will be a matter which will be given considerable attention at the annual meeting of the association in October. It is planned also to initiate a campaign which will emphasize the delights of touring in Michigan during the colorful autumn when the foliage has put on her attractive costume of russet and gold and brown and red. Tourists manifestly left Michigan this year at Labor Day with reluctance. One of the pressing impulses homeward was the necessity of preparing for the opening of school.

East Michigan would be a decided benefactor if there were a later school opening date in the fall. This subject of late school opening has been given thought and discussion before. Particularly, the only East Michigan town which has done more than discuss it is Mackinaw City. Palpably, East Michigan should set an example in this regard, if it expects other sections and other states to fall in line.

West Michigan cities are discussing a lengthening of the season. The deferring of the school opening date in the fall through the elimination of the spring vacation is one of the means suggested. Another is inauguration of fall festivals similar to the Blossom Festival at St. Joseph and Benton Harbor and the Cherry Festival at Traverse City.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Beezwax
Beezwax is a fatty substance secreted by bees and they consume great quantities of honey before swarming in order to produce wax used in building combs. Ten to twenty pounds of honey is required for each pound of wax. To produce wax for commercial use, the comb is boiled and the melted wax comes to the surface and hardens when skimmed off.

CORN ALONE FAILS TO MAKE PORK PROFITABLE

These Two Pigs were in the same litter

When this pig weighed 28 lbs it was fed on corn for 6 mo.—all the corn it could eat.

When this pig weighed 17 lbs it was put on a balanced ration—Corn, protein, pasture & minerals.

Corn marketed as unbalanced ration is sold unprofitably. Crops and the by-products of dairying feed as balanced rations return good profits. Corn-Soyabean-Mineral-Melita Pasture—Good Profits.

BLUE VALLEY CREAMERY INSTITUTE

MIXED FEEDS BEST FOR GROWING PIGS

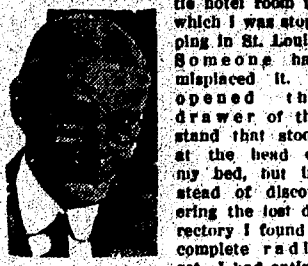

Corn alone is poor hog feed. Protein supplement alone is also poor hog feed. Alfalfa pasture alone, likewise, is poor hog feed. But with the three fed together, these feeds form an unbeatable combination, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute, especially if two kinds of protein supplement are used, with a little mineral added.

A healthy young pig, weighing 28 pounds, was taken out, put in a separate "dry lot" pen and allowed all the corn and water he could consume. At the end of six months he was a runt—an unprofitable, undernourished weakling, weighing only 31 pounds. Two accurate drawings, made from actual photographs of this pig, are

MODERN CONVENIENCES

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

I was looking around for the telephone directory in the convenient little hotel room in which I was stopping in St. Louis. Someone had misplaced it. I opened the drawer of the stand that stood at the head of my bed, but in stead of discover the lost directory I found a complete radio set. I had entirely forgotten this modern attraction which has been installed in so many hotels all over the country. By pulling a little lever and turning a dial I could listen to a concert in Birmingham, or get the latest reports on baseball, or hear President Hoover talking on farm relief. A radio in every room is the latest hotel slogan.

It was not always so. I recall with a shiver a night I spent some thirty-five years ago in the "best hotel in the city" of a town of some size in my native state. The thermometer registered fifteen degrees below zero, and there was no heat in the room nor any way of getting it. If there was a bathroom in the entire layout I was not able to discover it. The mattress on the rickety bed must have been stuffed with corn cobs, and the springs sagged from all directions. One crumpled up in the middle from the mere force of gravitation. I broke the ice in the pitcher in the morning preparatory to my daily ablutions and shivered as I shaved. There was not a single convenience in the whole establishment.

Things are different now. There is a bath in every room with hot or cold water as you choose, and you may use the shower or the tub as pleases your fancy. There is ice water for your drinking if you turn the proper tap, and a cloth to polish your shoes so that you will not ruin the fine towels which are furnished in luxurious abundance. If the room is too warm or too cold the difficulty may be quickly adjusted by twisting the button that controls the thermostat. You may have it as you like.

You can have your laundry done or your clothing cleaned and pressed or your shoes shined over night by putting them in a sort of concealed closet in the door and ringing up the office. There is stationery and telegraph blanks and pen and ink in a convenient desk, and pins and needle and thread and an assortment of buttons on the dresser to repair the wreck of your wearing apparel incident to a hasty getting out of the pullman. When you stretch out on the comfortable mattress and draw the clean sheets about you, there is a reading lamp at the head of the bed, and at your elbow a telephone and you can prop yourself up with two big pillows and talk to your friends a thousand miles away if you wish, or read yourself into pleasant drowsiness. If there is anything else you can think of which would add to your comfort or convenience all you have to do is to press a button and it will be brought to you.

Things are different from what they once were!

The Care of Your Money

MUNICIPAL BONDS
Municipal bonds—State, city, county, town and district securities—rank as a class next to Government bonds in safety, and in addition, have certain tax-exempt features that are attractive. But because of the number and complexity of factors that enter into the selection of a wise Municipal investment, the average investor will find it almost impossible to appraise a Municipal bond without the aid of an attorney or a banker.

So many things must be considered when selecting a bond of a municipality. That in this limited space Straus Brothers Investment Institute merely can outline a few of the more important facts to bear in mind.

State bonds must be differentiated from the regular run of municipals. Like Government bonds, they are promises to pay. Good faith is the one great essential as far as they are concerned. County, City and District bonds, on the other hand, are not dependent on the good faith of the issuing body for safety of principal. The financial competency and credit behind such bonds are the big factors.

Because any state can repudiate or refuse to pay its obligations, State bonds are technically inferior to other types of municipals that do not depend absolutely on the good faith of the issuing body. In 1870 the debts of repudiating Southern states amounted to $170,025,340. Since then other states have defaulted bond issues, but most of them now enjoy excellent credit.

In the selection of a Municipal bond, three essential factors should be carefully considered: the financial competency of the issuing municipality, the validity or legality of the issue, and good faith. These divide themselves into three parts: being investigation: the ratio of net debt to assessed valuation, the purpose for which the securities are issued, record of good or bad faith, population, constitutional provisions governing payment of debts and taxation and general considerations affecting the prosperity of the community.

Because of the tax-exempt feature of Municipal securities, they are particularly attractive to the largest investors paying the maximum federal income taxes. This specific demand tends to reduce the return far below that paid on other equally well-secured bonds which do not have the tax-exempt feature. Hence for the average investor paying an average income tax Municipal bonds are not a particularly choice investment.

ESSEX THE CHALLENGER first prize for reliability

The Grand Prize for reliability in the 15-day running of the famous "Tour de France" was awarded to Essex the Challenger. The two Essex entries finished the race without a single penalty—the only cars with perfect scores—winning by a great margin over the strong field of high-priced American and European cars. Not only the Grand Prize, but the Ansaldo Cup, for quick getaway; the Lymona Cup, the Pyrenees Cup, the Atlantic Cup, the Cup of Brittany, the Cup of Normandy and the Cup of the North were also taken by Essex the Challenger.

Performs Like a Costly Car
Because Built Like a Costly Car

Essex the Challenger looks and acts like a costly car because it is built like a costly car. Its enormous success has inspired others to claim qualities "like Essex". Yet everything about it—appearance, performance, comfort and luxurious smoothness—mark it apart, and altogether different.

To be like Essex without building like Essex is a goal no car has found possible. More than 200,000 owners know the outright facts. You can know them too in 30 minutes behind the wheel.

Duck season opens next Monday, Sept. 16th. The local nimrods are busy getting their shooting irons in shape for hunting. Reports indicate a lot of domestic ducks along the rivers and lakes. Migratory ducks will be coming in just as soon as sterny weather begins. That is when the hunters are happiest. Duck shooting is surely great sport.

Thieves entered the property of H.
A. Ferguson, north of Grayling airport, recently while the family was away on a vacation and stole a large number of chickens, and also a number of rows of early potatoes out of the ground. The parties wiped out what was a good part of the summer work of Mr. Ferguson and his fam-them returning here, the former returning to assist his father for a while.

Miss Nina Sorenson was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday party given by some of her relatives at the Olaf Sorenson cottage at Lake
Margrethe Monday night. The guests had all assembled and one of her aunts told her she would like to have her drive to the lake as she had left her eye glasses at the cottage. There were no lights and as she opened the door they gave her the surprise of her life. There were fifteen guests in all and a pleasant evening was spent ending up of course with a delicious lunch.

Inevitable
We might as well accept the inevitable as the inevitable for there is no escaping death or taxes. Too often we cross bridges before we come to them, and burn our energies up in useless and sinful worry. In fact, the greatest sins of the world are selfishness and worry. They are the tap-roots of all sins.

Did not the immortal poet write for us:

"Towards die many times before their deaths;
The valiant never taste death
but once.

Of all the wonders that I yet have heard,

It seems to me most strange that men should fear;

Seeing that death, a necessary end,
Will come, when it will come."

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Anglo-American Agreement on Naval Limitation Getting Nearer.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

RAMSAY MACDONALD, prime minister of Great Britain, told the assembly of the League of Nations in Geneva that he and Ambassador Davies in their many conversations concerning naval armament limitation had reached an accord on seventeen of the twenty points under consideration, and that he hoped to be able very soon to announce a full settlement. But dispatches from Washington and Geneva indicated that the three points unsettled were vitally important and that on these Great Britain and the United States were still far apart. They involve cruiser tonnage and the comparative fighting values of vessels armed with 6-inch and 8-inch guns. General Davies sent a long communication to the State department and it was considered at a White House breakfast attended by Secretary of State Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Adams and the members of the navy general board. Cruiser tonnage figures were not made public, but it was learned that the British cruiser requirements, though less than in 1927, were still far above the tonnage figures favored by President Hoover and would not give parity for the United States even if all our fifteen cruisers are built. The British insist they must have a large number of small cruisers, outside of the parity figures, to protect the world's sea lanes and protect British shipping.

Both Mr. MacDonald in Geneva and American officials in Washington were hopeful that the points of difference could be adjusted, and the prime minister said that as soon as this was accomplished he would formally announce his intention of visiting the United States to confer with President Hoover and Secretary Stimson.

Aristide Briand, premier of France, invited the chief delegates of the European nations in the league to a meeting for the purpose of hearing his plans for a political, economic and social federation of European powers. He wished the delegates to submit the scheme to their governments and ask for their suggestions. Briand made it clear that the proposed federation is not aimed against the interests of the United States of America. Both Ramsay MacDonald and Dr. Gustav Stresemann seemed to like Briand's plan.

THAT the League of Nations would adopt the Kellogg pact outlawing war as its policy was a probability, made strong by the fact that such a course was said to be favored by Great Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Japan. In his opening speech before the assembly Premier Briand declared the pact was really framed in the ideals of the league; and, following him, Foreign Minister Hymans of Belgium advocated a closer linking of the pact with the covenant of the league. He held the former was infinitely stronger than the covenant because it interdicted all wars of aggression while the covenant of the league left the door open for war when the council was unable to reach unanimity as to the identity of the aggressor. "The covenant is already old," he said. "The Kellogg-Briand pact embodies progress."

ADHERENCE of the United States to the World Court for International Justice came a big step nearer when delegates of forty countries belonging to that tribunal unanimously accepted the Root protocol, which was later approved by the assembly of the League of Nations. The United States government was officially notified of this action.

FOREIGN MINISTER STRESEMANN of Germany and his fellow delegates to the reparations conference at The Hague reported the results to the German cabinet and received the unanimous approval of the other ministers. The cabinet agreed to take all necessary measures to make the German people realize that The Hague agreement really represents a step forward, and not a defeat as the German nationalists are trying to label it.

In his address before the league assembly Premier Briand of France declared that at the reparations conference he would have been untrue to peace and concord if he had allowed "several millions of money" to prevent France from helping to liquidate the problems of the great war. Had he held back on concessions he would not have been entitled to be welcomed back to France. The nations must be ready to make concessions.

Orders for evacuation of the Rhineland by the British and Belgian forces have been issued, and the French are preparing to get out as soon as they can conveniently.

VIGOROUS action by the British brought about a partial cessation of the hostilities in most parts of Palestine and the Arabs were beginning to realize that England meant to make good on her pledge to protect the Jews there. But all around the Holy Land there was seething revolt among the Moslems. Floods of propaganda proclamations were scattered among the Arabs of bordering states calling on them to engage in a holy war to help their fellow Moslems in Palestine.

The British colonial office appointed a commission to investigate the race war, but announced that "no inquiry is contemplated which might alter the position of this country in regard to the mandate or the policy laid down by the earl of Balfour in the declaration of 1917 and embodied in the mandate, of establishing Palestine as a national home for the Jews."

FOR a few days it seemed likely that negotiations, conducted in Berlin, would bring about an agreement between Russia and China concerning the Chinese Eastern railroad and perhaps end the threat of war. But the plan failed, at least temporarily, and both nations continued to concentrate their forces on the Manchurian frontier. A late dispatch reached London from Tientsin saying that 3,000 Soviet soldiers had invaded Sinkiang, Manchuria, and were marching on Ill. In the region about Manchouli the Chinese were establishing their first line of defense, but it was believed that in case of serious Russian invasion they will fall back on the passes in the Great Khingan mountains, which have been strongly fortified. Several thousand Russian troops were moved two miles across the border in the vicinity of Manchouli, and there were repeated clashes in that sector.

Both the United States and Great Britain have rejected the Chinese demand that they surrender their extraterritorial rights in China, but in both cases the prospect is held out that such action may be taken later when the Nationalist government has progressed so far that there will no longer be need for the foreign courts.

CAUGHT in a terrific storm over the waste lands of the Southwest, the big Transcontinental passenger plane, City of San Francisco, bound from Albuquerque to Los Angeles, was destroyed probably by a lightning bolt and its five passengers and crew of three were killed. The dead were Mrs. J. B. Raymond of Glendale, Calif.; A. B. McGaffey of Albuquerque, N. M.; Campbell of Cincinnati, Harris Livermore of Boston and William H. Beers of New York, passengers; J. B. Stowe and A. E. Deitel, pilots, and C. F. Canfield, courier.

Another aviator killed by lightning was Maj. John H. Wood, noted speed pilot and president of the Northern Airways company. His plane exploded over the desert south of Needles, Calif., and he went down to his death with his wreckage. His mechanic escaped with a parachute.

Pilot T. G. Reid, at the Cleveland air races, set a new record for solo endurance flying and then presumably fell asleep, for his plane crashed and he was instantly killed. Lady Mary Heath, who also crashed at Cleveland and was terribly injured, was reported as having a chance for recovery. Jimmy Doolittle, crack flyer of the army corps, was practicing for stunts at the Cleveland show when, in a tremendous dive, both wings of his plane crumpled; he went over the side with his parachute and landed unhurt.

Piloted this time by Capt. Ernst Lehmann, the Graf Zeppelin made the return trip to Friedrichshafen with speed and safety. The huge airship was welcomed by premiers and other officials of all the German states and an immense throng of private citizens; President von Hindenburg, was prevented from being present by the death of his sister. The Zeppelin's round-the-world flight from its home port was made in 20 days, 4 hours and 13 minutes, establishing a new record.

After conferences at Akron, Ohio, Dr. Hugo Eckener said the Goodyear Zeppelin and German Zeppelin corporations would join in establishing transoceanic dirigible lines. It will require from two to four years to place the ships in operation.

REPUBLICANS of the senate finance committee formally reported to the senate their tariff bill, and the opponents of the measure spent several days jockeying for the best position from which to attack it. The radical Republicans, led by Borah, determined to try to have tariff revision limited to agricultural products, and in this they counted on the support of many Democrats. The radicals also sponsored a joint resolution introduced by Senator Blaine of Wisconsin authorizing all members of congress to have unlimited access to secret corporation income tax returns while the tariff bill is pending. The Democrats through Senator Simmons made it known they would try to obtain the same results by a resolution directing the finance committee to get the income tax information from the treasury.

FOUR hundred officers and men, picked as the best of the army's engineering forces, were ordered by Secretary of War Good to duty in the jungles of Central America to survey the route of the proposed Nicaraguan canal. Their findings and report will go far toward determining whether or not the government will undertake to build that waterway, the estimated cost of which is about a billion dollars. The survey, which will require two years, will be supervised by the intercanal canal board appointed by President Hoover.

CHICAGO mourns the death of two of her best citizens, Judge Frank Comerford of the Superior court, and William E. Dever, former judge and mayor. Judge Comerford, who was in the prime of life, was justly regarded as one of the city's most valuable jurists—courageous, wise, honest and a determined upholder of the dignity of the courts. Elected to the Illinois legislature when but twenty-six years old, Comerford was expelled from that body because of his attacks on corrupt members, but he was sent back by his constituency. Physical disabilities kept him out of the army when war was declared, but he was active in other ways in his country's service. He was elected to the bench in 1920, and presided in several notable cases. Mr. Dever, who lived most of his life in Chicago, was classed as a truly great citizen. He was a leader of Democrats for many years and his record both as judge and as mayor was excellent.

Frederick F. Proctor, builder of New York's first vaudeville theater and originator of the vaudeville chain, passed away in Larchmont, N. Y. He rose from errand boy and circus performer to the high position in the theatrical world which he relinquished last May when he sold his chain of more than twenty theaters to another corporation.

MRS. CALVIN COOLIDGE was given the honor of christening the new light cruiser Northampton Thursday, when it was launched at Quincy, Mass. The name of the 10,000-ton vessel was selected to honor the former President, whose home is in Northampton, Mass. He was unable to be present, however. Secretary Adams represented the Navy department, and Mrs. Coolidge was accompanied by a large delegation of Northampton citizens.

STEWART ANNOUNCES 5 TO 7 TONNER

Has Heavy Duty 6 Cylinder Motor. Largest Timken Rear Axle Made. 4 Wheel Booster Brakes, 2 Speed Auxiliary Transmission.

The Stewart Motor Corporation of Buffalo, New York, announces today a new 5 to 7 ton, model 27X, priced at $5,700 chassis.

This new 5 to 7 ton is of unusual rugged construction. The frame is 14 inch deep at the center section, having flanges 2 1/2 inches wide top and bottom. The 6 cylinder motor has a bore of 4 1/2 and a stroke of 5 1/2 inch bearing crankshaft and full force lubrication.

Standard tires are solids, 36x7 front, 40x7 dual rear. Pneumatic tires, either 40x8 all around duals rear or 42x9 all around duals rear, will be supplied at extra cost. The standard wheelbase is 165 inches with an optional of 180 inches. Other wheelbases that can be supplied are 175, 190, 220, and 235 inches.

The rear axle is the latest type Timken worm, full floating type. The rating on this axle is 25,000 pounds. The housing is of 1/2 inch steel stamping with reinforced sleeves of nickel steel which carry the wheel bearings. The shafts are 2 1/2 inches in diameter, made of nickel chromium alloy.

The front springs are 40 inches long, 3 inches wide and have 14 leaves of high alloy steel. The rear springs are 66 inches long, 4 inches wide and have 14 leaves. Helper springs, which are standard equipment, have 6 leaves. All spring eyes are bushed with phosphorus bronze. The front and rear motor supports, likewise the side transmission supports, are mounted in rubber cushioned brackets, thereby absorbing road shocks.

Steering gear is of the cam and lever type. Vacuum booster 4 wheel brakes are standard equipment.

The transmission is the dual type, giving a speed range of 8 forward and 2 reverse. A "low-low", for pit work and rough going, of 93.8:1 is possible. A flexible truck for heavy duty performance.

Standard equipment includes, painting chassis Stewart green with red wheels, electric starter, lights and horn, battery, tool kit, rear tire carrier, spare rim on pneumatics, windshield wiper and mirror on all closed cabs, front bumper, tow hooks front and rear, thermostat, oil cleaner, air cleaner, gas cleaner, stop light, gasoline gauge, handsome instrument board, equipped with gauges and indirect lighting for night driving.

Stewarts are sold and serviced locally by T. E. Douglas, Grayling, Michigan.

Some free trader advances the theory that by putting a tariff on green vegetables we are going to deprive the American people of their vitamins and subject them to scurvy, and next we expect to read that the tariff on stockings has created an epidemic of housemaid's knee.

Gladys Morse of Lansing dressed as an Indian princess gave an illustrated health talk to all the children of the grades.

Miss Morse told in a very delightful way how happy we should be that we do not believe in evil spirits as the Indians did and that we are educated in ways of being healthy.

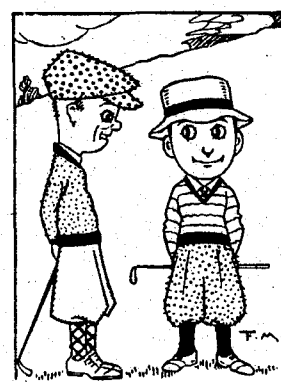

Miss Morse is a representative of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and while here is a guest of Miss Alice Hunter, teacher in English.

CURING SOCIAL ILLS

Michigan now has the most drastic liquor laws of any state. The Cuthbertson law, which went into effect during the closing days of August, provides penalties so severe for violation of the prohibition laws that it would seem the most daring would hesitate to violate them.

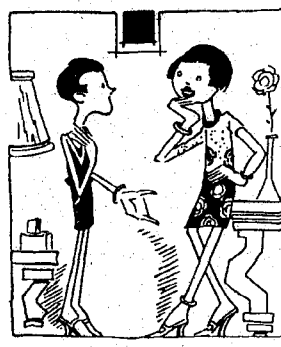

There also seems a disposition on the part of the enforcement machinery of the state to impose these penalties without fear or favor, so for the first time we will have an opportunity to find out just how much social reformation can be accomplished by legislation. The outcome will be watched with more than passing interest.

ODOROUS STREAM

"How did the Oder river in Prussia get its name?"
"Probably from the Limburger cheese made on its banks."

LAUGHED IT OFF

"I've said my dress was so shocking that I shouldn't wear it."
"What did you do then?"
"Oh, just laughed it off."

OF COURSE

"Do you know what fish would make a good aviator?"
"Of course not, neither do you."
"Sure, I do. How about the flying fish?"

OUTSTRIPPED THEM ALL

"And there's one thing in which she has outstripped all her rivals?"
"Yes—in clothes."

Graham-Paige

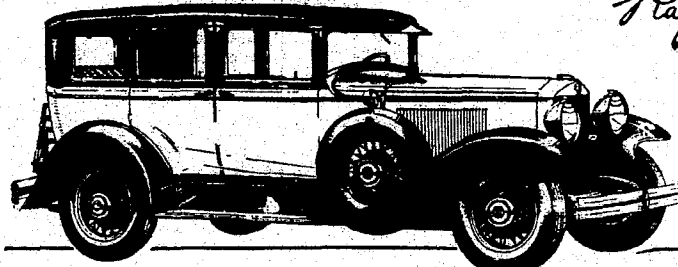

Has Always Had

Four Speeds Forward

The first Graham-Paige ever built offered the great advantage of four speeds forward with standard gear shift—now time-proven in the hands of thousands of owners. A 25% reduction in engine speeds at all road speeds adds a new thrill to motoring... silent smoothness with flashing acceleration and greater economy.

This outstanding feature, and the many important body and chassis improvements, are reasons why you should see and drive a 1930 Graham-Paige before buying any motor car...

THE CARE OF YOUR MONEY

THE MORTGAGE FORM OF INVESTMENT

You can find as much safety, stability of income, and liberal return in a good mortgage investment as you can in any other class of security.

That's why it is essential for the wise investor to gain a clear knowledge of this type of investment.

The mortgage is the oldest form of investment. Writings in cuneiform character recently unearthed in Mesopotamia show that there were mortgages on real estate in 2100 B. C.

Although the mortgage form has been changed and improved since its origination more than 4,000 years ago, its fundamental features have remained the same.

A mortgage is the transfer of property as the security for the payment of a debt. If the owner of the property fails to pay principal or interest when due, the holder of the mortgage can, by legal process, force the sale of the property to pay the debt.

Because the mortgage is a "death grip" on his land and building, the owner who signs a mortgage realizes the absolute necessity of meeting the debt. He therefore will find means to make this payment even though he neglects or is unable to meet other obligations.

A mortgage investment is popular because—

1. The basis of all value is real estate and by their nature, property made first mortgage investments, secured by real estate, are stable and free from fluctuations.
2. As a class it yields a larger net income than other investments of equal safety. The report of the investigating committee of the State of New York showed that all the investments of the insurance companies of that state, the investments secured by mortgages on improved real estate earned the most liberal net income.

3. Mortgage bonds are legal investments for savings banks in most states.
Often several mortgages are placed upon the same property. The one having the prior claim or preference over all the others is known as the First Mortgage; the others follow in order, second, third, etc.

The mortgage form has been greatly improved in modern years. The most radical and best modern improvement is the First Mortgage Real Estate bond, which is a promise to pay in the form of a bond secured by first mortgages. Real Estate bonds will be discussed in a later article.

DEMORALIZING HYPOCRACY

Mabel Walker Willebrandt, formerly in charge of prohibition enforcement for the department of justice is doing some plain talking these days. Here is something she said that is true, without contradiction:

"Many congressmen and senators who vote for dry laws are persistent violators of the Volstead law. Senators and representatives have appeared on the floor—in a drunken condition. Nothing has done more to disgust honest men and women than the hypocrisy of the wet-drinking, dry-voting congressman. Bootleggers infest the halls and corridors of the capital and ply their trade there. Until politicians are made to obey the laws we cannot expect respect for the law."

THE BABY DRIVER

We have a suspicion that, if an examination was held, Michigan would find a surprising number of cases in which the whole family thinks it has an automobile driver's license just because dad has one. Oftentimes children of the tender age of eleven to twelve years may be seen driving big cars. If such a child secured a license properly then someone should be separated from his job. If the child had no license, then there is something wrong with our whole license system. In fact it requires no great powers of discernment to reach that conclusion. The State law permits the issuance of a driver's license only to persons of or over fourteen years of age. The family which permits a child under that age to drive a car is not only violating the law but is endangering the safety of other drivers. There is no available machinery for checking up this feature of our automobile regulations, but that is not saying that there should not be.—Pontiac Daily Press.

Of course these round the world flights are all right but we expect, within ten years, to read of one which is put over by some modern flapper advertising a popular brand of cigarettes.

VITAMINES

Vitamines are food substances which are to the human body what sparks are to the automobile. They are found in the natural foods. Foods highest in vitamins are milk, butter, eggs, calves' liver, vegetables, whole grain cereal and fruits.

Porch Lunches

WE all sympathize with the stricken lady on shipboard when the steward approached her with a dish of quivery gelatin, moaned, "Steward, take that away! It wobbles so it makes me sick!" We may sympathize, but probably it will be with an air of condescension for we are on no wobbly ship but on our own porch with the dappled light sifting through the leaves, and the garden scents drifting lazily up to soothe us. But more than that, there is the ideal conclusion to an idle porch luncheon on the table in front of us. Yes, a gelatin dessert. Not one that we have eaten time and again, but something a little new, a little different, intriguing. Just what? Why, here are the recipes:

Product of the Vine

Grape Sponge: Soak two tablespoons gelatin in four tablespoons cold water. Bring three cups grape juice, one cup water and one-half cup sugar to boiling, pour over gelatin and stir until dissolved. When cold and beginning to stiffen, add one tablespoon lemon juice, one cup of canned, moist coconut, one-half cup of vacuum-packed walnuts and one-half cup of cream, whipped. Chill in molds.

Strawberry and Pineapple Foam: Dissolve one package of lemon-
